

U.S. Envoy Meets With Korean Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent.
SEOUL (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy Cyrus Vance met for almost three hours today with South Korea's premier and other top Cabinet ministers, but Korean sources reported they made "very little progress" toward eliminating differences between the United States and its Asian ally.

The meeting was "rough going," one Korean source reported. The conference ranged over problems of the complex crisis resulting from South Korea's worries over her defenses in the face of North Korean threats.

Vance planned another meeting with Premier Chung Il-kwon Wednesday and then was expected to pay his second visit to President Chung Hee Park. Whether that would be Vance's final conference nobody in authority would say, but the presidential envoy already has extended his visit one day, into Wednesday.

Korean sources said Vance and the Koreans agreed tentatively that the foreign and defense ministers of the two governments would meet annually to review mutual security problems, with the first meeting to be held in Washington in June.

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy would not comment on the report.

Informed sources also reported that the Koreans were asking the U.S. government to tell North Korea it will denounce the 1953 armistice agreement if the Communists send down any more raiders like the team that tried to assassinate President Park. The South Koreans also reportedly want the Americans to demand that North Korea apologize for the assassination attempt Jan. 21.

One informed Korean source said "very little progress" seemed to have been made toward healing the rift stemming from South Korean feelings that the United States, in its desire to secure the release of the USS Pueblo and its crew, is not paying sufficient attention to South Korean security.

Meanwhile, the U. N. Command announced it would meet Wednesday with North Korea at the Panmunjom truce headquarters to discuss "armistice violations."

North Korean infiltration across the demilitarized zone has increased steadily for more than a year. A U.S. military spokesman said American troops repelled two small groups of North Koreans Monday night and early today in two brief firefights in the U.S.-patrolled section of the DMZ. No casualties were reported.

The North Koreans broadcast today a second purported confession by Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, skipper of the Pueblo. It repeated the first statement attributed to Bucher that the Pueblo had intruded in North Korean territorial waters.

The new statement added that Bucher is "always gripped by yearning for my family" and "would like to tell them that I am safe and healthy and that they should not worry too much."

of the planned Tet truce, Johnson said of the Communists:

"We would meet them tomorrow. But we are not going to surrender. We are willing to reason. We are willing to talk. We are willing to let them write the agenda and say, 'Here are the first subjects you talk about.'"

White House officials made it clear later the United States would expect to cover its own preferred topics later in any negotiations.

But he added some qualifications inherent in his earlier utterances on the subject: Talks would have to be prompt, productive and—in effect, he addressed Hanoi directly—"you will not take advantage like you did in the Tet."

Johnson, reaffirming and possibly broadening by a fraction his earlier-stated San Antonio formula for peace talks, said his 1967 offer along much the same lines was answered with the Communist offensive during the Tet New Year holiday—"a sacred day"—against 44 cities and 24 U.S. air bases.

Despite that, he told the students, Hanoi needn't fuss about semantic niceties in its public pronouncements but simply say, "Geneva is the place and tomorrow is the time."

The students were at the White House in their capacity as planners of Choice 68, and April 24 presidential preference vote financed by Time magazine.

Argentina Police in Drive Against Hippies Learn to Cut Hair

By JOSE M. ORLANDO
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A government campaign against hippies is turning Argentine policemen into expert barbers.

At least 108 youths have been picked up by the police in raids in Buenos Aires recently. Dozens more were taken into custody at beach resorts.

Many of the boys had their hair trimmed before being released. One complained a policeman cut off his shoulder-length mane with blunt shears. Some charged the police beat them.

The government two-month-old antihippie drive, stems from two pet interests of the military regime of President Juan Carlos Onganía: morality and anticomunism.

The drive has not been admitted officially but a top official said privately: "By leading a promiscuous sexual life and leaning generally toward an extreme leftism, the hippies represent both a moral and a political danger."

The hippies say the charge is nonsense.

"We have a right to live as we choose," a bearded, 20-year-old boy said. "We don't bother anybody and all we ask is to be left alone."

"We may practice free love, but that's nobody's affair except for the people involved," he added. "As for politics, there are no more Communists among us than you would find in any group of young, rebellious people anywhere in the world."

The influential weekly news magazine Primera Plana said the campaign is "a paranoid witch hunt."

A hippie said police repression is backfiring. He said the hippie movement is spreading as a result.

"I don't think there were more than a few hundred of us in Buenos Aires some months ago," he said. "Now you count us by the thousands."

Long-haired boys in light jeans and brightly colored shirts are now a common sight in Buenos Aires' fashionable shopping district, walking hand in hand with girls who often look like the boys — or the other way around.

The drive against hippies is the government's second morality campaign in one year.

Onganía, a religious, 53-year-old cavalry general, last year sent vice squads raiding lovers' lanes, parks and hotels and hauling couples into jail.

killed, or more than half of the 60,000 troops U.S. officers believe they committed to the offensive.

Military spokesmen said the Communists on Monday shot down a South Vietnamese Air Force A-1 Skyraider bombing and strafing the Citadel, the two-mile-square fortress which was the seat of Vietnam's 19th century emperors. The pilot parachuted unhurt and the plane crashed outside the city.

Communist gunners also shelled and attacked the staging area of a government engineering battalion and the headquarters of an infantry division in Hue. The attacks were repulsed and the enemy left behind three dead, a government military spokesman said, while South Vietnamese losses were one killed and four wounded.

Four miles northwest of Hue, 300 communist troops clashed with infantrymen from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in a two-hour battle that left 30 enemy and five Americans dead.

Benefit Ball Game to Be Here Wednesday

Four of Arkansas' meanest basketball teams tangle Wednesday night beginning at 7 p.m. at Jones Field House — and for a good cause too — the March of Dimes Drive.

The first game begins at 7, with the Jaycees meeting the Kiwanis Club Pros. Playing for the Jaycees will be: Roy Ray, Monte Harris, Buster Riggs, Warren Plyler, Terrell Ingersol, Earl Ray Murphy, Ronnie Phillips.

On the Kiwanis squad is Al Graves, Johnny Graves, Bill Harr, Bob Mores, Joe Barrenline, Steve Marlor, Rufus Hernandez and "Ole One Shot" Clyde Davis.

It Was the Dog That Was Lost

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Six-year-old Steve Norton set out to find his Boston bulldog. He did, but when he failed to return his grandmother called police to tell them her grandson visiting from Fresno, Calif., was missing.

When found wandering with the dog near her home on Jackson's West Side, Steve said: "I'm not lost. My dog's the one who's lost."

Street Sweeper Is Missing
LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 10-ton, bright orange city street sweeper is missing. Police have put out a grand theft vehicle report on the Western states and Mexico. The sweeper swifter may be far afield. It can go 50 miles per hour.

Light Snow Scattered Over State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Light and scattered snow fell over the western half of Arkansas today but the U. S. Weather Bureau said there would be little accumulation and only in the northwest portions of the state.

The State Police reported that several bridges in Central Arkansas had light icing early today, but that the ice melted because of heavy traffic. It reported traffic slowed on U. S. 71 because of light snow.

Continued cold with cloudy to partly cloudy skies is predicted for Arkansas through Wednesday with light snow ending tonight.

Low temperatures reported around the state today ranged from 22 degrees at Harrison to 36 at Texarkana. Highs reported Monday ranged from 41 at Harrison to 51 at Texarkana.

SHOWER SPRINGS HD CLUB MEETS

Stain removal from clothing was the chief concern of the Shower Springs Extension Homemakers Club when members gathered at the home of Mrs. Wilton Mullins on Friday, February 9. After Mrs. Gene Dillard had presented the eye-opener, the hostess led the lesson discussion, "Away With Stains."

When the secretary, Mrs. Darrell Dillon, called the roll, 11 members answered with "The most difficult stains I have tried to remove." Mrs. Clarence Johnson was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Club President, Mrs. Clifton East, was in charge of the business meeting, when it was decided to change the meeting day for the club to Thursday. Buying birthday gifts for the residents of a local nursing home during the month of March will be a project of the club, members decided.

"Youth" and "Birth Defects" were leader reports given by Mrs. Homer Polndexter and Mrs. Clifton East, respectively. Mrs. Polndexter, club vice-president, also read a poem, "Dressis-sional."

During the social hour, Mrs. Floyd Mangum directed a game which Mrs. Bob Dillard won. Cake, cookies, and cold drinks were served to members, a guest, Mrs. Ethel Reece, and 3 children.

Surprise Was Too Thorough

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The two masked thugs who held up Chuck McKenzie, 20, early Sunday did too thorough a job of surprising him.

McKenzie arrived at a bank to make a night deposit of $1,700 from the restaurant he manages when two men ordered him to hand over the money.

The startled McKenzie threw up his hands. The money sack which he had been holding kept going up. It landed on the bank roof.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope is a fine entertainer. The USO is an organization worthy of a benefit performance. The new Madison Square Garden is an impressive auditorium. The combination, however, did not add up to a very happy hour for television viewers tuned to NBC.

The problem, quite simply, was one of size and shape. Hope, with Bing Crosby and Pearl Bailey, performed on an enormous bare platform in the center of the vast place. While the microphones functioned satisfactorily, the visual part left much to be desired.

Hope and friends were before the cameras during the benefit Sunday night. The tape was edited to be broadcast less than 24 hours later. It was pretty ragged.

The comedian walked onto the stage with a lot of jokes about the city's strike of sanitation workers— which to New York were like Hope's smog jokes when he is in Los Angeles and his GI jokes when he is in Vietnam— more amusing to the folks on the scene than in other parts of the nation.

Bing Crosby and Hope predictably insulted each other with good humor— and some of the time their printed cue cards were highly visible to the TV audience.

Barbara Eden and some chorus boys had a song and dance number that was pretty difficult to handle— Miss Eden had to change costume in front of the audience since there was no place to hide.

Most awkward of all was the fact that all performers, trying to reach the live audience seated around them, circled the platform trailing microphone wires, like restless creatures on long leashes. Much of the time their backs were to the camera.

The show concluded with a long and unfunny boxing match between Rocky Marciano and Hope— It never came off at all. Immediately following that special, Andy Williams popped onto the EC screen presiding over an awards ceremony—the Golden Globes of the Hollywood Foreign Press Association—from the grand ballroom of a West Coast hotel. The facilities, while far from perfect, were a little better for television.

There were a large number of awards, and while handled in

Against Using Nuclear Weapons

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The use of strategic nuclear weapons in Vietnam would be lunacy, Alf M. Landon said Sunday night.

The former Kansas governor and 1936 Republican presidential candidate said at a Youth Week dinner that "Even if we could win over communism in Vietnam, we could still lose the war on our dollar, and then communism would still emerge victorious."

"We are attempting to police the whole world at enormous financial cost and are not adequately meeting the demands of the times for a viable economic and social structure with decent respect for the law and order in America," he said.

the classic manner of the Oscars, it went rather fast. Since most of the fun for the audience in an awards show is looking at the celebrities, it was a little disappointing that few of the winners were present to pick up their trophies.

While most of the awards were for motion pictures and theater performances, the association members chose "Mission Impossible" as the most popular TV show of the year. Martin Landau of "Mission Impossible" and Carol Burnett were picked the most popular male and female stars of the medium.

By "BILL"

If a man isn't interested in the latest models of the new cars, he has just about had it. . . . It is natural as a woman wanting that wall-to-wall stuff. . . .

But one thing we particularly noticed in the publicity pictures of the auto shows was . . . the cute girls in the mini-skirts they had on hand to attract the dealers to the convention. You cannot get away from it, men will ALWAYS look at a pretty girl first, no matter what other interests they may have. Just proven they are normal.

And that brings us right back to the good old Raley's Style Shoppe. We can remember when an inexpensive dress looked expensive. Dyes were drab simply because it cost too much to create new colors. Science and research has turned this tide. Expensive dyes which only the rich could afford and which were a rank symbol are now produced inexpensively that any working girl can look like she was born to the purple!

For instance take Parkland's smart little shift dresses. Gay and bright as the Dallas weather (that's where they come from) . . . simple and uncluttered, slimming, the perfect pick-up for Winter-into-Spring and so priced that you can have several, $16.00 to $23.00.

Don't forget, you have two more weeks to buy cottons at a $2.00 reduction. Buy your cottons early and use our Lay-away—

For the woman who wears a half-size or the petite, we have a counter-part line. They are made along the same lines, but they give a bit more hip-room for the girl who needs it. Jersey, acetate, rayon and linen— all smart and priced at $18.00 and $23.00.

51 Points Not Enough, LSU Loses

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer Pistol Pete Maravich gave it to Georgia with both guns but when the dust had cleared, the Bulldogs had survived a lot better than Louisiana State.

Maravich, the LSU sophomore who leads the country's collegiate basketball scorers, poured in 51 points against Georgia Monday night but the barrage couldn't overcome a balanced Bulldog attack that produced a 78-73 Southeastern Conference victory.

And while Maravich was shooting up Georgia, Baron Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats slipped into the SEC lead by edging Tennessee 60-59.

The eighth ranked Wildcats pulled it out in the final minutes with three sophomores—Mike Casey, Mike Pratt and Dan Isel—doing the bulk of the job. It was seventh-ranked Tennessee's second straight SEC loss and dropped the Vols one half game back of Kentucky.

Meanwhile, North Carolina, ranked third in The Associated Press poll, rolled to its 16th straight victory, beating North Carolina State 96-84.

Charlie Scott, another soph, poured in 34 points for the Tar Heels. Larry Miller had 24 and became the third highest scorer in NC history with 1,714. Eddie Biedenbach led the losers with 28.

Georgia had four players in double figures with Bob Lienhard's 28 points tops. Lienhard, a 6-foot-11 soph, hit 12 of 19 from the floor and four of nine free throws. Maravich connected on 20 of 47 field goals and was 11 for 18 from the foul line.

Casey, who led Kentucky's scorers with 17 points, put the Wildcats on top 58-57 with one minute left and Isel, who had 15, followed with another basket. Then the Wildcats held Tennessee off. Pratt, Rupp's other soph, finished with 15.

"What magnificent ball those lads played," exulted Rupp afterwards. "The fine thing about this game was that those boys didn't lose their poise at all."

In the Big Ten, Wisconsin's hot-shooting Badgers knocked off front running Ohio State 86-78 as Joe Franklin's 23 points led a balanced attack.

The loss cut OSU's lead to one-half game over idle Northwestern and Iowa. Wisconsin is fifth in the conference.

Henry Tyson scored 23 points, 18 of them in the first half as Dartmouth nipped Cornell 64-63 in an Ivy League game.

Texas-El Paso romped over Arizona State 87-69 as Andy White hit seven of his first eight shots. White finished with 21 points and Nate Archibald led the Miners with 22.

In other games, Providence topped DePaul 71-60, Oklahoma City ripped Denver 100-86, Kansas State tripped Creighton 85-75, Colorado dropped Missouri 79-76 in overtime and Georgia Tech whipped Jacksonville 97-77.

Central Is Replaced in Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Rock Central, a two-time loser last week, has been replaced at the top of the Associated Press Arkansas high school basketball poll by Fort Smith Northside.

The Tigers lost to Hot Springs and North Little Rock while the Grizzlies knocked off Fort Smith Southside and Hot Springs.

It is the first time the Tigers have been out of the No. 1 spot in several weeks. Central fell to third while Greenbrier moved up a notch to second.

Blytheville and Magnolia Columbia continue to hold down the fourth and fifth spots.

North Little Rock advanced two notches to sixth while Hot Springs dropped from sixth to seventh. Turrell, 29-0, fell from seventh to eighth. Bay, a newcomer to the top ten, took over the ninth spot and El Dorado remained tenth.

Here are the results of the poll with first place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. FS Northside (10) (17-2) 108
2. Greenbrier (1) (26-1) 91
3. LR Central (17-3) 78

Houston Maintains Poll Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Duke Blue Devils, knocked out of the Top Ten last week, regained a ranking position in The Associated Press major-college basketball poll today. Other gains were recorded by New Mexico and Columbia.

Duke took over 10th place after winning three games last week and lifting its record to 14-3. New Mexico and Columbia each advanced one spot, the Lobos to fifth and the Lions to sixth.

Houston, unbeaten in 21 games, maintained its solid hold on first place in the poll based on games through last Saturday. The Cougars collected 28 first-place votes and 351 points in the balloting by a national panel of 36 sports writers and broadcasters.

UCLA, which received the other eight first-place votes, held second place with 332 points, the latter awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, eight for third, etc.

Houston trounced Centenary 107-56 in its only start last week while UCLA defeated Oregon State 55-52 and Oregon 104-63 for an 18-1 mark.

North Carolina, 17-1 after beating Virginia, Wake Forest and Virginia Tech in last week's action, remained in the No. 3 slot. The Tar Heels had 281 points.

Undefeated St. Bonaventure, a 70-56 winner over Providence last week, held fourth place followed in order by New Mexico, Columbia, Tennessee, Kentucky Vanderbilt and Duke.

New Mexico edged New Mexico State 72-71 and Texas-El Paso 64-58, boosting its record to 19-1. Columbia also won twice—over Dartmouth and Harvard. The Lions are 15-3.

Tennessee slipped two notches to seventh. The Vols lost to Georgia 61-43 after downing Louisiana State 87-67.

Kentucky and Vanderbilt remained in eighth and ninth place, respectively. Each scored two victories in last week's games.

Duke, which beat Maryland, Southern Illinois and Notre Dame, replaced New Mexico State on the rankings' list. The Aggies, 10th a week ago, lost to New Mexico and Chicago Loyola.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses and total points through games of Feb. 10 on a 10-0-8-etc. basis:

1. Houston (28) 351
2. UCLA (8) 332
3. North Carolina 281
4. St. Bonaventure 229
5. New Mexico 208
6. Columbia 108
7. Tennessee 104
8. Kentucky 87
9. Vanderbilt 75
10. Duke 57

Ft. Smith Players Sign With Houston

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Three football players from Fort Smith, including two from Northside's undefeated Grizzlies, signed letters of intent Monday with the University of Houston.

The signees are Northside tailback Benny Shepherd and defensive tackle Chris Moore and St. Anne's fullback, Adam Webster.

Houston Coach Bill Yeoman announced the signings and said he felt the trio was "representative of the cream of the crop, not only in Arkansas but throughout the Southwest."

The 5-foot-11, 187-pound Shepherd scored 14 touchdowns last year and averaged more than five yards a carry on 144 attempts. Moore, 6-foot-3 and 205, averaged six unassisted tackles a game and the 6-foot-1, 205-pound Webster averaged nine tackles a game and more than five yards a carry.

Judges Are Feared by Contestants

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — They're the nine old men—and women—of the Winter Olympics, and no one is more maligned, more feared, more cultivated and more pampered.

They're the judges of the figure skating competition. "They can take a dislike to you if they don't like the way you fix your hair, and they can mark you down for it," said one of the lady competitors.

"This sport always has been ridden with politics," commented one official of the American team. "You put your whole career in their hands."

The judges are a strange and mysterious group. They stand around the ice in long coats and with their arms loaded with papers and rating cards.

In the school figures, in which the competitors trace intricate designs on the ice, they get down on their hands and knees to examine the tracings.

It's a peculiar sight. You'd think they were looking for a lost contact lens.

The Iron Curtain judges—the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Romania, etc., almost always downgrade the Western skaters.

The Western judges hit back by low-rating the Reds.

The International Figure Skating Federation recently took note of the discrepancies in judging and called for the end of politics. The plea apparently fell on deaf ears.

"You have to watch your manners," said one competitor. "You must be sure to smile at the judges and treat them nice."

Families and coaches of figure skaters have been known to wine and dine judges to curry their favor. It works.

The word around the Stade de Glace here in the Winter Olympics is that Emmerich Danzer of Austria, the world champion, has lost favor with the judges and may be beaten out of an Olympic gold medal. "He's become awfully cocky," a rival said. "The judges notice that."

Making Sure The Garden Makes Ice

NEW YORK (AP) — The stockholders can rest easy. The New Madison Square Garden makes ice.

Emile Francis, manager-coach of the New York Rangers, is a stickler for details and he decided to make sure his team would have something to skate on when they make their first appearance in their new home Sunday.

So, Francis ordered a rare Monday evening workout after a tough three-game-in-four-night stretch. He seemed satisfied with the $43 million-dollar structure and its one-quarter inch layer of ice afterwards.

A retroactive tax is valid and has been imposed by Congress in the past.

Kidd Takes Medal for Americans

By MORRIS ROSENBERG

Associated Press Writer
GRENOBLE, France (AP) —

The United States Alpine ski team, beset by injuries through the early part of the Winter Olympics Games, stood poised on the brink of a major victory today—with spunky teenagers Judy Nagel and Kiki Cutter carrying the medal hopes in the women's special slalom despite the disqualification of two other American contenders.

Judy, a 16-year-old latecomer to the U.S. Olympic squad from Enumclaw, Wash., streaked into the lead over favored Marielle Goitschel of France and Nancy Greene of Canada in the first of two slalom runs on the slopes of Chamrousse.

Kiki, 18, of Bend, Ore., also was among the leaders as the girls readied themselves for the final swoop down the course.

But Wendy Allen of San Pedro, Calif., was disqualified for missing a gate after posting the best time of all 49 entrants and Rosie Fortna of Warren, Vt., also was set down after flashing into a contending position.

The United States was shut out of the medals again Monday, but Billy Kidd turned in the day's best performance in the giant slalom, won by France's fantastic Jean-Claude Killy.

Killy took a second heat run down the 57-gate, 1,780-meter course in 1:46.54 for a combined time of 3:29.28 and an easy victory.

Kidd, of Stowe, Vt., a silver medalist in the event four years ago, had the day's best time, 1:46.46, which lifted him from eighth after the first run to fifth overall with a combined time of 3:32.37.

Jim Heuga of Squaw Valley, Calif., the bronze medal winner in 1964, finished 10th with a time of 1:48.43 for 3:33.89.

"No medals today," the dejected Kidd said. "But we still have another chance."

That will be in the special slalom Friday and Saturday when Killy seeks a third gold medal.

He won the downhill last week and seeks to become only the second man in history to sweep all three.

Tony Sailer of Austria turned the trick in 1956, and predicts that Killy can't match it.

"I don't think Killy can do it," Sailer said. "He has too much pressure on him. Besides, he's past his peak." And he added that the slalom courses are easier now than in his day.

Killy, a handsome, 24-year-old, retorted that today's competition "is much more difficult. I think in winning two gold medals I already have matched Sailer's feat in 1956. If I should win the slalom, it would be a much greater achievement."

Aside from Killy, the Americans' achievements were modest at best.

Jeanne Ashworth, Wilmington, N.Y., managed only a 10th-place finish behind winner Johanna Schut of the Netherlands in the women's 3,000-meter speed skating and Army Cpl. Ralph C. Wakely, Murray, Utah, was the top American, 27th, in the biathlon. His time was one hour, 27 minutes, 32.9 seconds. The event was won by Magnar Solberg of Norway in 1:13:45.9.

Warm weather and rain forced still another postponement in the singles luge (small sled) race.

The hockey team scored four times in the last 10 minutes of the second period to break it open against West Germany.

Doug Volmer of Minneapolis had two goals in the burst, while Lou Nanne, Minneapolis and Army Pvt. Larry Pleau, stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., had the others.

43 Magic Number in ABA Play

Forty-three was the magic number in the American Basketball Association Monday night.

That was the number of points poured in by three separate players. Cincy Powell shattered a Dallas scoring record with his 43 in a 114-101 victory over Denver, snapping the Chaparrals' six-game losing string.

On the West Coast, Ben Warley and Willie Somerset matched that total as Warley's Anaheim club nipped Houston and Somerset, 145-142 in overtime.

Warley also set an ABA record, hitting 16 straight baskets, snapping the previous mark of 10 by teammate Lefty Thomas, set last month.

In other ABA games, New Jersey downed New Orleans 118-109 and Kentucky stopped Eastern Division leader Pittsburgh 131-107.

In the only National Basketball Association game, Chicago tripped Cincinnati 112-104 in overtime.

Powell, who set the previous Dallas scoring record Sunday against Minnesota, hitting for 41 points, wasted little time in breaking it as he sparked Dallas to an early lead and the Chaps never were headed. Larry Jones topped Denver with 23 points.

Warley began his streak in the second quarter, hitting on six straight shots to put Anaheim ahead 70-65 at the half after the Amigos had trailed earlier by 14 points. Warley ripped off 10 more in a row in a torrid third quarter which saw Anaheim streak ahead 87-71.

Then Somerset, a 5-foot-10 guard, triggered a tie for Houston at 129-129 after regulation time.

The Americans reeled off five straight points just before halftime for an 11-point edge and CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Colin Adair, 25, of Montreal reigned today as the U.S. squash racquets singles champion.

Adair won the championship Monday with an 11-15, 15-11, 15-9, 15-13 victory over McGill University junior Peter Martin.

Henri Salaun of Boston retained the veterans title by defeating Vic Selxas of Philadelphia 15-11, 12-15, 15-9, 15-4. New York dethroned Quebec as team champion with a 3-2 decision.

Jim Ligon's 27 rebounds, a team record, and 21 points paced the Colonels to their easy victory over Pittsburgh. Connie Hawkins had 25 points for the Pipers.

Jerry Sloan's two jump shots in overtime gave the Bulls their overtime decision over the Royals, who played without the injured Oscar Robertson.

Clem Haskins' basket with nine seconds remaining in regulation play had tied the game 101-101. The Royals managed to score only five points in the last 8:42, including the overtime.

Maple Leafs Finding the West Tough

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don't hand Punch Imlach that line about going West, young man. Coach Imlach took his Toronto Maple Leafs West for a couple of games with two National Hockey League expansion clubs — Oakland and Los Angeles. He still is looking for his first point. Los Angeles stunned the Leafs 2-0 Monday night, just 24 hours after Oakland had dropped them 4-3. It was the only NHL game played.

The consecutive losses left the sagging defending Stanley Cup champions in fifth place in the East Division, four points back of idle New York and only five ahead of last-place Detroit. The Leafs have dropped six in a row and seven of their last nine starts.

Rookie Wayne Rutledge kicked out 31 Toronto shots for his second shutout. And to make matters worse for Imlach, one of the Los Angeles goals was scored by Toronto discard Ed Javal, who has tallied four of his 13 against the Leafs. Howie Menard got the other.

The victory, the second in three meetings with Toronto, moved the third-place Kings three points back of Minnesota in the West Division race. Los Angeles boasts a 9-9-0 record against the established teams, the best mark among the league's expansion clubs.

Inaccuracies Are Charged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Joint Auditing Committee has found various inaccuracies in the handling of drugs in the State Hospital pharmacy but has failed to substantiate a charge that drugs were being taken from the pharmacy illegally.

The charge was leveled last month by Rep. Leon Holist or North Little Rock and prompted the committee's investigation.

The committee said it could not determine exactly where the losses occurred.

Holist made the charge after pharmacy expenses jumped from $56,135 to $189,901 in one fiscal year.

Drugs With Medicare Is Unlikely

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources predict President Johnson's forthcoming health message to Congress won't recommend adding the cost of prescription drugs to the medicare program.

Said one well-placed source at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare: "I think you can look at the President's budget for HEW and get a pretty good idea of whether he will ask for prescription drugs to be added."

The budget generally would keep HEW spending under tight rein because of soaring Vietnam war costs, threatening inflation and a cost-cutting Congress.

Dr. Milton Silverman, staff director of a HEW task force studying the prescription drug issue, said the total cost of such drugs for medicare patients would be more than $1.5 billion a year by 1970 or 1971.

A bill to add prescription drugs costs to medicare has been introduced in Congress by Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., with 32 co-sponsors.

Senior citizens organizations have been pressing hard for such a measure. They contend the cost of drugs in addition to what the elderly have to pay to take part in medicare makes the program a financial burden for many older people.

Montoya's bill would authorize the government to pay only the cost of generic equivalents of prescription drugs. Administration officials did not endorse such proposals at the last session of Congress on the grounds they first had to make certain that generic drugs — those known only by their chemical names — are in fact equivalent in performance to brand-name drugs.

Silverman said the government share of prescription drug costs could be reduced to any level Congress wanted, depending on how much would be borne by participants in medicare, the health care plan for Americans 65 and older.

Under various proposed plans, medicare participants would pay through increased premiums for the voluntary, doctor-bill part of the program or by paying part of the drug bills.

Premiums for the doctor coverage go from $3 to $4 a month in April and would have to be

Situation Ups Tension

TOKYO (AP) — "Today the situation in the Far East, the Pueblo incident, intensification of the war in Vietnam — all are increasing the degree of tension," said the leader of the rising young Komelto party. "We shudder at the feeling of danger that our nation may be drawn into these conflicts."

Komelto leader Yoshikatsu Takeiri told the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan that his party backs "absolute neutrality" that would put Japan's defense in the hands of the United Nations. He said Japan should be allowed to maintain its own defenses until the United Nations can provide a security force.

Farm Group to 'Outlast' Grain Trade

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization said today it will "outlast" the grain trade with its withholding action despite no appreciable price gains after a month of boycotting markets in 30 states.

Prices for corn, oats, wheat, rye, soybeans and sorghums have edged upward only pennies since the militant farmer organization announced its sales embargo Jan. 11.

Trade specialists say that in addition to the NFO action factors involved in higher prices include increased exports, a big farmer turnout to join the government's 1968 acreage diversion program, grains held off the market under government loan and the political tension in Southeast Asia.

The result is a cloudy picture of what effect the withholding action has had, if any.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley points to a fresh one-cent hike in corn prices at Chicago as evidence that the flow of corn is beginning to stop. Dealers, however, report neither shortage nor stockpiling.

Staley says farmers can outlast the grain traders as long as grain can be stored under government loan at prices equal to or higher than the market price, a current condition.

But Bob Skinner of the Iowa Grain and Feed Dealers Association thinks the boycott has stalled. "If all farmers would stop selling grain it would affect the market in a hurry," said Skinner. "I don't think we are going to see any effects."

N.D., feels the boycott was ill-timed. "Once the grain is produced, individual holding back doesn't work too well. Generally, the middleman can wait," Andrews told a Missouri farmer meeting last week.

On the Chicago market Friday, No. 2 corn sold for $1.18 a bushel, about five cents more than on Jan. 11. The NFO is holding out for $1.50.

Soybeans traded Friday went for $2.73, seven cents above the Jan. 11 price. The NFO is seeking $3 a bushel. Wheat was near $1.66 — up 36 cents from Jan. 11 — with the NFO asking $2 in its pledge of "no price, no production."

Mr. Romney Believes He Can Win

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — People keep asking George Romney who he's going to support for the Republican presidential nomination if he can't win it himself, and the Michigan governor keeps telling them he doesn't expect to lose.

It would take a lot to shake that expectation and convince Romney he should stand aside or become a proxy for someone else in the race for the White House.

Representative of Arkansas Power & Light Co. brought the Lions Club program yesterday at the regular noon luncheon at Town & Country.

Donald Edwin Bone, Hot Springs, Industrial Sales Engineer, was the speaker. He showed a film explaining nuclear powered electric generating plants that some day will replace coal and gas fuel plants used now.

Cruel and Unusual Punishment

For picking flowers in a public park, a man was sentenced to six years in jail. But when he appealed to a higher court, the sentence was thrown out. The court said that, since the punishment did not even remotely fit the crime, it was "cruel and unusual" — hence forbidden by the United States Constitution.

It is the relatively unknown Eighth Amendment that prohibits the inflicting of cruel and unusual punishment. The ban applies not only to punishment that is totally unfitted to the crime but also—and more typically — to punishment that is cruel in its very nature.

Examples are torture and mutilation.

Sympathy in the hour of sorrow is something long remembered. Your kindness has been so helpful and all that you have done for us has been deeply appreciated. The family of Jerry Brown,

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

No Evidence of Damage in Television Radiation

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Our color television set was one of the ones shown to be faulty. Even though the defective tube was replaced we had used it daily for about a year. Could any serious damage have been done to us and our children?

A—In the faulty sets, the leakage of radiation was directed downward and toward the back of the set. It could, therefore, have caused damage only to a child playing for prolonged periods directly under the set. Even though this was a potential hazard, there is no evidence that these sets caused any actual damage.

Q—My daughter, 16, has a nasal septum that is pushed to one side. Can this be corrected?

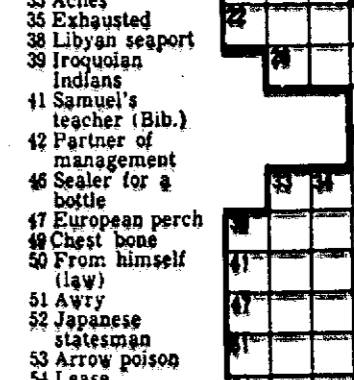

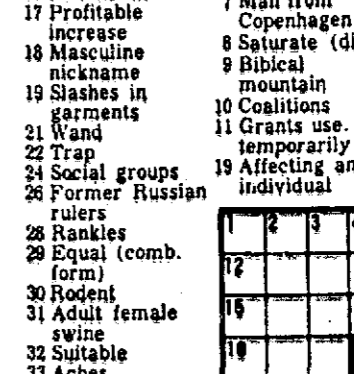

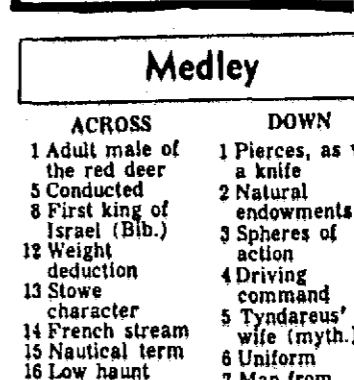

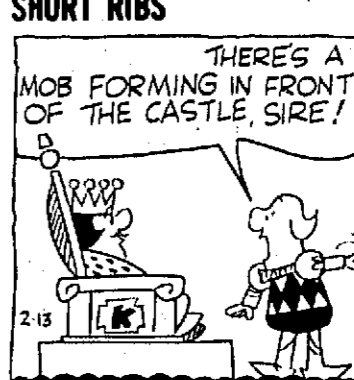

A—Yes. The cartilage can be removed from the septum. This operation, a submucous resection, will improve her breathing space.

Q—I have frequent nose-bleeds. My mother and aunts had them and my daughter has them. Is this condition hereditary? What causes them and what can be done for them?

A—There is a hereditary type of nosebleed that is more common in females than in males. Other causes include local irritation and high blood pressure. You can prevent the formation of crusts in your nose by using a very little petrolatum jelly or mineral oil in the nostrils. When a nosebleed occurs the victim should remain quiet in a sitting position while someone gets an icebag and places it on the back of her neck. The victim's head should be tilted forward and down. Pinching the nose tightly for 10 minutes is another effective means of controlling a nosebleed.

Traitors Were in Camp Hit by Enemy

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — When the North Vietnamese and their tanks overran the Lang Vei Special Forces Camp last week, the garrison undoubtedly included Communist agents and traitors, informed military sources say.

The Montagnard tribesmen in the Civilian Irregular Defense Group defending the camp four miles west of this U.S. Marine base were hired mercenaries who were given no security check and could quit any time they liked.

Since the U.S. Special Forces began its program of organizing the tribesmen in the mountains years ago, they have been plagued with infiltration by the Viet Cong. An American Green Beret man who commanded a camp once said he believed up to 30 per cent of his men were Communists.

One senior U.S. officer said that before the Lang Vei attack, a Viet Cong ring was discovered in the camp and was crushed. But this undoubtedly did not eliminate all the Communists, sources here say.

Special Forces officers say the Communists infiltrate the CIDG for two reasons: They want their men inside to help them in any attack, and they need the specialized training in heavy weapons and communications the Green Berets give.

At one time some camp commanders were discussing the advisability of secretly planting electrical mines under machine-gun positions in their camps to be detonated in case, as once happened, traitors turned the guns around during an attack and shot down the camp's defenders.

Not all the traitors have been mountain tribesmen, Special Forces men say. One was a South Vietnamese sergeant who opened the camp's main gate to the attackers.

The problem of ferreting out the Communists in the constantly shifting membership of CIDG teams is unsolvable, one officer said. Too many men drift in and out of the organization, and police records on the Montagnards are virtually nonexistent.

To protect themselves, the American Special Forces team in each camp occupies an inner compound that can be defended against attack from within the camp as well as from without. The teams also have detachments of trusted bodyguards, often Cambodian or Nung tribesmen known for their loyalty and fighting spirit, who stay with the Americans in their inner compound.

But if some CIDG men are traitors, some are heroes. American survivors of the Lang Vei attack reported some of their "yards"—GI slang for Montagnards—climbed up on the North Vietnamese tanks and hurled hand grenades down the hatches.

Sanitation Strike Has GOPs at Odds

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Balking Senate Republicans at the State Capitol have stalled action on emergency legislation to support Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's controversial settlement of New York City's nine-day garbage strike.

The GOP-controlled Senate postponed action on the governors' bill Monday night as many Republican lawmakers shied from the prospect of approving the plan to have the state temporarily take over the city sanitation department.

The delay marked the day's second setback for the Republican governor. Earlier the Democrat-dominated Assembly refused his request to make a personal appeal for the bill before a joint session of the legislature on the ground it "would be a big Rockefeller show."

After that rebuff, Rockefeller went on television seeking popular and legislative support for the settlement which has been bitterly assailed by his nationally-known fellow Republican, Mayor John V. Lindsay, and editorially attacked by many of the state's newspapers.

In the city, the Sanitation Department said crews would mount snow plows on the trucks today to scrape up the great quads of debris that accumulated along the curbs during the walkout.

Georgia was the first southern state to ratify the federal Constitution, in 1788.

Strike Brings Split to N.Y. Republicans

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller may have improved his standing with organized labor by getting New York City's garbage picked up, but Republicans generally think he has cooled party conservatives.

If a draft movement should arise for the New York governor, the conservatives conceivably could help Rockefeller get the GOP presidential nomination at the August convention. Labor support would be of little value to him there.

As matters stand, Rockefeller is so committed to supporting the candidacy of Michigan Gov. George Romney that even if Romney should falter in the primaries, the New Yorker's name is not likely to be on any popular vote ballot.

As a favorite son, Rockefeller would have a base of operations at the Miami Beach, Fla., convention with his state's 92 votes. He possibly could be the beneficiary of some write-in campaigns, particularly in Oregon.

But Rockefeller's chances for the nomination appear to rest primarily on what has been a general feeling among party members that he is the Republican with the best chance of defeating President Johnson.

This search for a winner has led many conservatives to tell themselves they may have to bend a little to get one. But they long have been distrustful of the New York governor's demonstrated liberal tendencies and how far they would go in excusing him for this always has been a matter of conjecture.

In a convention in which former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is likely to have solid strength, the New York governor's chances of winning the nomination would be decidedly slim unless some conservatives swung over to him.

But conservatives leaning toward Rockefeller have been given cause for second thoughts since the governor brushed aside a state antistrike law, arranged for release of a labor leader from jail to negotiate with him and approved a settlement of the garbage collectors' strike that Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay says smacks of submitting to blackmail.

In the process, Rockefeller's action in threatening to have the state take over the New York

City Sanitation department was advertised by Lindsay as a plan that "corrupts the fundamental rights of the people of New York City."

Lindsay's declaration that this is a threat to home rule hardly recommends Rockefeller as a champion of a campaign theme dear to party conservatives—the demand for diffusion of the power concentrated in Washington.

Desertions Decreasing in the Army
By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Corps posted five and six year highs in desertion convictions respectively last fiscal year and Pentagon figures also show more Air Force members were convicted for desertion than the year before.

But desertion conviction figures for the Army—with far more men in uniform—continued an over-all downward trend underway since World War II. Desertions have drawn fresh attention with the recent publicized cases of U.S. servicemen seeking asylum in Sweden, assertedly in protest of the Vietnam war.

The Pentagon maintains most men do not desert because of disillusionment over Vietnam but rather because they don't like the regimentation of military life.

Supplying latest desertion figures in response to questions, the Pentagon said: "There is no evidence to indicate that the reasons for desertions are any different for the Vietnam conflict than they were during World War I, World War II and the Korean War."

Based on previous information and studies, the Pentagon said, "It appears that such offenders are largely socially and emotionally immature."

A large majority of such offenders are young, being under 21.

It can also be assumed that dissatisfaction with service life for a variety of reasons is the major cause of desertions."

In the year ending last June 30 the Navy convicted 25 deserters compared with a decade low of 4 in 1966. The Navy meted out convictions to 60 deserters in 1960, 28 in 1961, 15 in 1962, 17 in 1963, 7 in 1964 and 12 in 1965.

Sixty-eight Marines received desertion convictions in fiscal 1967, up from 25 in 1966 but down from a peak in this decade of 100 in 1960. Other recent years: 1965, 39; 1964, 31; 1963,

Romney and Nixon Differ on War Policy

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
DOVER, N.H. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is engaged in a sharp campaign dispute with Gov. George Romney of Michigan over American policy in Vietnam.

Nixon has taken a much harder line on the war.

"This is a war we cannot afford to lose," Nixon said in a speech, "for we are fighting in Vietnam not for Vietnam alone but for peace in the Pacific. It is this larger cause that makes it essential that our side prevail."

The former vice president is battling Romney in New Hampshire where the first presidential primary will be held March 12. Only eight delegates are at stake, but politicians attach unusual psychological importance to the election.

More than 1,200 persons drove across icy, snow-rimmed roads Monday night to hear Nixon deliver the speech at Dover.

Romney, who spent part of last week in Wisconsin, plans to return to resume his campaigning in New Hampshire tonight.

By contrast to Nixon's position on Vietnam, Romney said recently, "We need to take the peace offensive and show we're not warmongers... If we continue down this road, it leads right to World War III."

Romney has twice challenged Nixon to a debate in New Hampshire, but Nixon refused on the grounds that such a confrontation would not serve the 59; 1962, 39; and 1961, 64.

The Air Force, reporting figures for the first nine months of calendar year 1967, listed 11 convictions in courts-martial of men facing desertion charges.

This compared with 4 in 1966, 16 in 1965, 8 in 1964, 19 in 1963, 22 in 1962 and 28 in 1961.

In fiscal 1967, the Army had 86 convicted deserters. This, calculated against its overall strength, figured to less than 1 conviction per 1,000 men—0.07 to be exact.

During calendar years 1942 through 1947—covering World War II—the Army convicted 20,392 deserters for an average conviction rate of 3.7 per 1,000 per year.

From May 1951 to May 1953, while the Korean War was on, the Army found 3,369 men guilty in desertion courts-martial, an average annual conviction rate of 0.69 per thousand.

Unions Near Agreement on Race Issues

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO construction unions and federal officials were reported close today to agreeing on a set of rules to admit more Negroes into the unions in an attempt to ease longstanding complaints of racial discrimination.

Sources indicated the proposed agreement would withhold tough government sanctions as long as the 18 building trades unions moved successfully on a voluntary basis to open their doors wider to Negroes and other minority groups.

"I think it looks pretty good," said Plumbers Union President Peter T. Schoemann of the chances for solving the issue, which has long been a sore point between Johnson administration officials and the politically powerful labor movement.

The construction unions have been the target of numerous racial bias charges from civil rights groups.

Presidents of the 18 unions of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, representing some 3.5 million workers, reportedly were ready to act on a final draft of proposed regulations worked out

Interests of Republican unity.

Nixon fired off one of his strongest statements on the war in a speech in which he said: "The Pacific has ceased to be a barrier. It is now a link that joins America, intimately and inseparably, with the nations on its western rim. Their stability is essential to our own security, and their stability is at stake in Vietnam."

Nixon said that if the Communists win in Vietnam, their victory would be the "signal" for them to instigate similar wars elsewhere in Asia, Africa and Latin America. "It would powerfully reinforce the Peking hard liners, the 'hawks', in the internal Communist struggle," Nixon said.

Nixon's Dover audience filled the 900 seats in the high school auditorium. Two hundred persons listened from the cafeteria and about 100 or more clustered outside the entrances.

Women Grieving Over War Dead Harassed by Anonymous Letters

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Grieving women who have lost husbands and sons in the Vietnam war are being subjected to a barrage of antiwar diatribes sent anonymously through the mail. Some of it says American servicemen fighting in Vietnam are worse than cannibals.

The Associated Press obtained copies of this material from the widow of a soldier killed in combat. It came in hand-addressed envelopes postmarked Susanville, Calif., and bearing the return address: P.O. Box 497, Susanville.

That post office box number is held in the name of H. L. Hummel. The same name appears at the end of an essay included in the antiwar material mailed to the widow.

Also included was a reprint of an antiwar essay printed last summer in The Christian Century, a highly respected non-denominational religious weekly published in Chicago.

On Dec. 19, 1967, The Christian Century filled an order for 100 reprints of the article. A spokesman for the magazine said the order for reprints was signed: "H. L. Hummel, Box 497, Susanville, Calif."

A telephone call placed to an on how many Negroes were enrolled in unions' apprenticeship programs.

"We think the best results would come from a better rapport between top officials of the Labor Department and the building trades," said C. J. Haggerty, president of the trades department at a meeting here.

Haggerty, Schoemann, and several other key union officials have been working for months on the proposed new antidiscrimination plan with Secretary of Labor Department Solicitor Charles Donahue.

Haggerty indicated the proposal would embody a continuing top-level committee of unions and Labor Department officials to try to solve discrimination complaints.

There is no provision in the U.N. charter for the withdrawal of any member nation.

H. L. Hummel in Susanville was answered by a woman. She said her husband is 87 and could not hear well enough to carry on a direct conversation. She relayed questions to him. He answered into the telephone himself.

The man, a sheet and blanket salesman, said he had ordered the 100 reprints of the Christian Century article "because I wanted to read them."

Asked if he had ever mailed the reprints or other material to women whose sons or husbands were killed in Vietnam, the man said:

"I wouldn't say for sure if I didn't or did. I don't remember sending any of this to women who have lost a son or a husband. What if I did? I don't see anything wrong with it. There's no law against it, is there?"

There is no law against it. "It's detestable and it's maddening, but it's not actionable," said Timothy J. May, general counsel to the Post Office Department. "Short of being malicious, you can use first-class mail to say almost anything to anyone about public issues."

The Pentagon launched an extensive investigation in April 1965 to track down the sources of harassing mail and telephone calls to families of servicemen killed in Vietnam.

In the intervening 34 months, it has pinpointed 205 specific sources—with only one successful prosecution. That involved a parolee from a federal penitentiary who read about the death of a Marine and sponged two weeks of accommodations from the family by passing himself off as a buddy of the dead man.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee has done extensive research on the problem of harassing mail and concluded that any law which could be construed as censorship of first-class mail would not survive a Supreme Court test.

"First-class mail is not and cannot be censored," said Charles E. Johnson, the committee's staff director. "This sort of thing is sickening and there is no excuse for it, but the Post Office has no alternative but to deliver it."

Minimum Wage Issue Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate put off voting on minimum wage legislation Monday but the opposition was beginning to concede that the upper house probably will pass a minimum wage bill in this special session.

"It looks like a very close vote," said George Dickinson, executive secretary of the Arkansas Free Enterprise Association and one of the major lobbyists against the legislation.

Advised that Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock, a co-sponsor of the Rockefeller administration's minimum wage bill, was predicting passage, Dickinson said that Howell was usually a reliable observer.

The administration bill (SB61) would set a minimum wage of $1 per hour starting Jan. 1, 1969. This would go to $1.10 on Jan. 1, 1970, and to $1.20 on Jan. 1, 1971.

The House passed a similar bill during the 1967 regular session, but it never came to a vote in the Senate. Proponents of the minimum wage legislation believe they will have easy sledding in the House if they get a bill through the Senate.

Besides the administration bill, the Senate has on file a bill (SB62) by Sen. Richard Earl Griffin of Crossett which differs slightly from the Howell proposal.

Senators contacted by The Associated Press late Monday seemed to agree that one of the two bills will pass.

Won't Release Financial Data

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Carl D. McDaniel, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee, says the committee will not release its financial records because the information "would fall into the hands of the opposition."

McDaniel had been asked by James T. Canfield of Jacksonville, a member of the committee, to prepare and distribute a financial report of the committee to its members.

"You and I both know that the other party would dearly love to have this information at this time," McDaniel told Canfield in a letter.

Our Daily Bread

Sheed Thin by The Editor
Alex. H. Washburn
The Impudence of Arkansas Gazette's
Policy on Taxes

Thirty-three years ago this editor was campaigning for a state sales tax to bolster government and rescue nearly bankrupt landowners, including a personal appearance before the House Committee on Revenue and Taxation in February 1935 in support of the original 2 per cent sales tax bill, which was enacted in March 1935.

Your editor wasn't "a controversial figure" back yonder. He became "controversial" only when succeeding years showed the sales tax becoming expansive, abusive, and straying far from its original purpose, and he stood pat on fundamental principles and demanded tax reform.

There are two kinds of editors — the "controversial" who try to do something for the public good, and the other kind, who, having done nothing yesterday, spend today stirring up confusion and defeat for tomorrow.

Thirty-three years ago neither of the Little Rock state newspapers said an editorial word in favor of the then new and untried policy of taxing consumer sales. But today the Arkansas Gazette disowns its timorous background and poses as a lion-hearted authority on all sales tax matters — a palpable fraud and a public disservice.

In an editorial Monday the Gazette attacked all exemptions for business under the state sales tax. But as an original sponsor of the Arkansas sales tax thirty-three years ago I want to point out that we are steadily falling into the very error that research warned us against at the beginning.

The sales tax was designed as a one-time tax on commodities purchased by the individual consumer. To expand it against business houses and industry is to convert it into a transaction tax — a tax against turnover — automatically multiplying the total tax that the individual consumer pays.

I warned of this in the original campaign for the sales tax 33 years ago. My research of tax authorities disclosed that every sales tax carries the inherent threat of degenerating into a transaction tax. Take the case of Spain, where the first sales tax in history was developed. It turned into a transaction tax that ultimately pyramided into 60 per cent of the cost of some commodities — until an outraged Spain killed the entire sales tax program.

How does this come about? Well, the stated rate of the sales tax is 3 per cent on the individual purchaser. But then you begin taxing industry and business, and each passes its sales (transaction) tax on to the next fellow in the shape of higher prices — and the final buyer — you, Mr. Consumer — winds up paying an actual tax of 6, 9, or maybe 12 per cent. In Spain it got to 60 per cent before the people discovered the fraud — and killed it.

That's where we're headed today in Arkansas.

I know that some quaint property owners imagine a sales tax can be made a substitute for property tax — but they are wrong. The history of sales tax legislation proves that. The only possible result in the long run is to destroy the sales tax as a ruinous transaction tax — leaving a confiscatory land tax to fall back upon property owners in the long run.

I suggest, as a middle-of-the-road advocate, that prudence demands we reform present sales tax practices and launch a long overdue reform of our property assessment system.

As I have pointed out for years, and through two statewide sales tax petition campaigns, property assessments haven't changed much since the depths of the 1929-33 depression; but in the meantime the sales tax has skyrocketed.

In 1935 the Hall law set the sales tax at 2 per cent with food, medicine, and clothing exempt. In 1941 these exemptions were removed. And in 1957 the tax rate was increased to 3 per cent across the board. And all this time the multiplication of tax has steadily increased by its application to business, and attempts to apply it to manufacturing, too.

What is your actual sales tax

Doctor Doubts Three Skeletons Found Were Victims of Murder

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Rodney F. Carlton, the pathologist who examined three skeletons found in unmarked graves at Cummins Prison Farm, said Monday he doubts that they are those of murder victims.

He said two of the skeletons "do not show any evidence of trauma or a violent death." He added that none of the skeletons showed any evidence of decapitation, amputation or mutilation.

Carlton said there were evidences of fractures on the third skeleton but added that he was "inclined to think that they were probably sustained after death."

Carlton said some of the fractures on the third skeleton are today— 3 per cent? Are you kidding? It is nearer 6, 9, or 12 per cent — and climbing.

It's time property owners were brought back into this fight — without their help the average consumer is powerless. And eventual overthrow of all sales tax legislation — which we are inviting upon ourselves — would be a disaster for all.

fresh. He said, however, that others are definitely older and are consistent with fractures due to blunt trauma.

"There are fractures that are older and make one suspicious that this was due to blunt trauma to the side of the skull," Carlton said. "However, this must be tempered with the knowledge that the fractures could have occurred several years after death due to 'caving in' of the grave."

Carlton said the indications were that the fresh fractures were sustained at the time of excavation or during shipment of the bones to his office.

Reports by inmates of convicts being murdered and secretly buried led to the discovery of the three skeletons Jan. 29. Authorities were led to the spot where the graves were unearthed by Reuben Johnson, 59, a convict who said he helped bury 10 or 12 inmates.

Carlton's report varied from that of Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton who had said that one of the skeletons had no head and that the leg bones of another appeared to have been broken in an attempt to fit it into the coffin.

A local attorney, Larry Patterson, discussed "How a Bill Really Becomes a Law," at last week's meeting of Hope B&PW. He discussed the procedure of drafting a bill and cited advantages of having a State Constitutional Convention. President LaVeta Mouser introduced guests, Miss Mona Caradine and Miss Jenny Lou Beene. Mr. Patterson was introduced by Mrs. Martha Stephenson, chairman of the Legislative committee.

Sentences Handed Out by Judge

In Hempstead Circuit Court Judge William Arnold, III, handed down the following sentences: Mrs. Martha Delaney entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary each on charges of forgery and uttering and embezzlement. The sentences are to run concurrent with three and a half years on each count suspended on condition that she make the injured whole and on good behavior.

Mrs. Delaney was employed by the Hope Livestock Auction Co. and was charged with forgery, uttering and embezzlement of a check signed H. R. Coon, Hope Livestock Auction Co. and drawn on Citizens Bank of Hope.

Earle Martin, charged with removing mortgaged property, was found guilty by a jury and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary to run concurrently with a suspended sentence.

William Lee King, plea of guilty to possession of burglary tools, sentenced to three years in prison, sentence suspended on good behavior.

Ottis Johnson, pleaded guilty to forgery and uttering, received a two year sentence in the state prison. He was charged with forgery of a warrant issued by the auditor of the State of Arkansas.

Henry Turnline, charged with assault with intent to kill, was found guilty by a jury and sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500. The result from an argument in a dice game in which Turnline shot Robert Loudermilk.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Democrats in the Arkansas House caucused again today and reportedly reached an agreement on the handling of a bill to qualify Lynn A. Davis as director of the state Police.

Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman, the house majority leader, would reveal after the caucus only that an agreement had been reached. He would not say what would be done.

A source told The Associated Press that the agreement called for amending the bill to set forth some qualifications for a State Police director, but none that would disqualify Davis.

By ED SHEARER

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—After disposing of many minor items and primarily paying only lip service to major ones, the Arkansas General Assembly was finally ready today to come to grips with the most controversial legislation facing it in the current special session.

Delays on the key bills sought by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller have been frequent but votes were expected in the House today on the controversial "Lynn Davis" bill and another setting up the mechanics for a constitutional convention.

Meanwhile, the Senate was ready today to take up the minimum wage bill, a last minute addition to Rockefeller's bulky call of 83 items.

Also slated today was the first action on the controversial prison reform package that the administration introduced only Friday. A public hearing is scheduled on those bills by the House Judiciary Committee.

The 97 Democrats voted Monday to hold another caucus on the bill the governor wants delecting the 10-year residency requirement from the State Police law so that he can reappoint Davis to the position.

Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman, the majority leader, said there was not enough time Monday for the caucus to reach a consensus on the bill.

One amendment requiring the director to be a qualified elector (a resident for one year) was attached to the bill last week by Rep. Jimmie McKisack of Star City and Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage said he was

Would Halt Bombs If Hanoi Would Start Peace Talks, LBJ Says

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says despite the massive Communist offensive in South Vietnam he will halt bombing of the North star peace talks tomorrow and let the enemy "write the agenda" — if Hanoi doesn't try a double-cross.

This was Johnson's off-the-cuff reaction Monday when 1 of 11 college student visitors at the White House argued that campus antiwar demonstrators "are not just the unwashed" but include brilliant young people.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski D-Ill., earlier told a Chicago audience a presidential emissary was in Hanoi to discuss a possible bombing halt and negotiations to end the war when Communists attacked the U.S. Embassy in Saigon last month.

Pucinski said "As a matter of fact, the U.S. had to stop the bombing of Hanoi to assure safe passage for the emissary," whom he declined to name.

But he said the emissary was still in Hanoi "as far as we know and he may still be talking to the North Vietnamese."

The White House and State Department declined comment.

Johnson said he thought he understood youthful Vietnam dissenters — "none of us want to die" — but declared "we have gone just as far as decent and honorable people can go" to seek a Vietnam peace.

It was a spontaneous presidential performance — 75 minutes of it — in a White House sitting room. With five reporters watching and taking notes, Johnson opened himself to all questions and, in answering, paced, gesticulated, grimaced and orated with more emotion than is normal in his public appearances.

Sentenced on Rape Charge

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Carl Creekmore of Van Buren sentenced Donald Santo Conti, 36, to 21 years in prison Monday after Conti pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to rape a six-year-old girl.

Farm Bureau Member Drive 76 Per Cent

After a single week's work, 76 per cent of the Hempstead County Farm Bureau's membership goal has been achieved.

Membership Chairman, Ralph Montgomery, reported that 507 farm families had joined the county farm organization to date, compared with a goal of 750 for the year. Forty-three new members have joined the organization.

"We are extremely pleased with the reception given us by the farmers of this county," Mr. Montgomery said. "It indicates that farmers in general approve of the policies and programs of Farm Bureau here in the county and at state and national levels."

He said he was confident the goal would be attained soon. "We owe a big 'Thank You' to the farmers who left their own operations to persuade their neighbors to join Farm Bureau. That is the kind of cooperation that makes for success in membership work and all organized activities."

"Quick completion of the drive will mean we can get to work soon to carry out our 1968 program." The county organization will receive the February Award presented by the State Farm Bureau Federation if sixty-one more members join the group during February.

U.S. Attack Slowed by Enemy Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is rushing about 10,500 additional Army and Marine ground combat troops to South Vietnam "for insurance purposes," the Defense Department announced today.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese Marines launched a ground assault against strong enemy forces inside the walled Citadel at Hue today, but heavy small-arms, machine-gun and rocket fire drove them back.

The North Vietnamese troops fought from gunpits burrowed deep inside the grimy black stone walls of the inner Citadel in the former imperial capital 400 miles northeast of Saigon.

AP photographer Al Chang reported from Hue that the sky had cleared after two weeks of monsoon rains, but no air support was flown for the Marines today.

Air strikes had been flown against enemy positions in the Citadel Monday, and there was no immediate explanation why no planes were in the air today.

"Where the hell is our air support?" one Marine asked Chang bitterly after the costly, unsuccessful assault on the Citadel's inner walls. "We are being chopped up."

More than 1,000 U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops were tightening the vise beside the north bank of the Perfume River. On the south bank, in Hue's modern quarter the Americans had regained control, and the population crept out of refugee camps and shell-marked homes to bury the dead in hastily dug graves.

"The situation in Hue the last three days is generally the same," a U.S. spokesman said in Saigon. "They are holding out along the south wall of the Citadel with their extremely strong point at the southwest corner."

Allied spokesmen said that the 14 days of fighting in Hue have cost the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong 2,393 dead, about half of them inside the Citadel. South Vietnamese casualties were reported moderate, meaning the government force was hard hit. There was no announcement of U.S. casualties.

Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, is the last of 35 South Vietnamese cities and towns where Communist forces are still fighting as organized units two weeks after the start of their biggest offensive of the war. It has cost them, by government count, 32,245 men
